

Terms of Service

A placeholder terms document for paid access to InstAlert.

Subscription access

InstAlert is available through paid subscription plans. The subscribing business is responsible for selecting a plan, maintaining billing details, and managing authorized users.

Acceptable use

Subscribers must use InstAlert for legitimate business security coordination, protect account access, and avoid misuse that could disrupt the service or expose other businesses to unnecessary risk.

Alerts and decisions

InstAlert provides information and coordination tools. Subscribers remain responsible for evaluating alerts, following their own safety procedures, and contacting emergency services when appropriate.

Support and updates

LosIncreiblesCorp may update product capabilities, support procedures, and these terms as the service evolves. Approved commercial terms should replace this placeholder before publication.

This document is provided by LosIncreiblesCorp for InstAlert subscribers and visitors. Replace this placeholder policy content with approved legal or support copy before publication.
